

OHIO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Ohio Historical Society seeks an enthusiastic community organizer to work full-time as an independent contractor on a specific statewide public education campaign effort beginning as soon as possible and ending on or near Dec. 31, 2011. The ideal candidate will have the following experience and skill set:

- At least five years of political experience in Ohio at the state or local levels.
- Experience working on a state issue or statewide political campaign.
- Excellent interpersonal skills, including public speaking, creative writing, working effectively in diverse groups and mediating discussions.
- Excellent political and organizational strategist with clear examples of success within the public and/or nonprofit sectors.
- Excellent knowledge of Ohio, its communities and its history.
- Outstanding organizational skills, including working with volunteers to meet specific deadlines with limited resources.
- Ability to work independently and to travel around Ohio to attend meetings and coordinate activities, including most weekends.
- Proficient in use of new media, social networking and other digital technology.
- Comfortable facilitating fundraising opportunities.

Terms and conditions of the contract will be commensurate with experience and skills. Interested candidates should send a cover letter, resume and three references to govrelations@ohiohistory.org by July 2, 2010. Please include minimum compensation requirements in cover letter.
